

Tautoko - Support

A Facilitated Process

An Enviroschools Facilitator works with your school, at your own pace, to motivate, support and guide your vision for a sustainable future.

A Framework

A Whole School Approach that uses the Action Learning Cycle as a process of exploration, action and reflection on your journey. A great fit with inquiry learning.

Ngā Rauemi - Resources

A range of resources and tools for teachers that provide guidance on the process, plus great student activities and case studies.

A national network of schools

Inspiring one another and sharing their experiences!

What people are saying...

"Enviroschools provides an effective way to both implement the NZ Curriculum, and bring learning alive." Teacher

"Our school has been involved in lots of one-off environmental education initiatives – the Enviroschools Programme pulls everything together and helps us to make our impact sustainable in the long term." Teacher

Enviroschools

An individually-tailored, self-paced pathway towards sustainability in your school has a kaupapa of creating healthy, peaceful, sustainable communities. It is:

The Enviroschools Programme...

- action-focused
- student-driven
- self-paced
- whole-school
- integrated into the curriculum
- grounded in Māori perspectives
- connected with our communities
- embracing of cultural diversity

Your school commitment

The Enviroschools Programme is offered to schools in return for a commitment to:

- engage as a whole school in a journey towards sustainability
- enable students to take action on real-life projects
- share successes and challenges with the Enviroschools network
- participate in networking events and professional development opportunities
